"Let me ask, now, if any man in Indiana believes that Mr. Wellington R. Burt's selt in the United States, and the great salt trust in England are likely to prove rivals to each other! Do you think they will out down prices and deprive each other of their respective profits? When the English trust points out the way to increase the price of salt four-fold at a single jump, do you think Wellington R. Burt is the modest man to say "no" to a proposition to unite the two trusts-all stockholders on the ground floor-and both united in an agreement to advance salt 300 per cent. to the consumer both in Great Britain and the United States! Thus, you see the danger-a danger apparently without a remedy-that will allow an international trust organized on the basis of free trade.

"Alexander Hamilton laid it down in the greatest financial paper submitted him to Congress that, beneath protective tariff, domestic competition would always insure reasonable prices to the consumer. And I ask you if our experience does not justify the wisdom of our first and greatest Secretary of the Treasury in all the years that have elapsed since he wrote those significant words? [Cheers.] But if we should reach the basis of free trade, the President's great goal of prosperity, and the manufacturers and holders of any domestic article, and the manufacturers and holders of an article of the same kind in any foreign country, unite, where is your relief? Where is your defense? [Cheers and cries of 'You're right.'

Well, gentlemen, these are not the only two Democratic trusts. I have now spoken of one necessary luxury and one absolute necessity; but there is another trust. wielding more political influence, perhaps, than both of them. I refer to the whisky trust, which has absolutely changed the politics and policy of the Democratic party. For years after the war closed the one demand of the Democracy, especially in the South, was for the destruction of the internal revenue system, and first and last the outrageous taxes on whisky and tobacco. They denounced them as war taxes, to which no free people should submit in time of peace. Well, gentlemen, the free traders, both North and South, soon saw that if the internal revenue system were abolished the country would necessarily rely for its revenue upon customs, as it had done for more than a generation preceding the war, and, If that were the case, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to destroy the doctrine of protection. And so, under Mr. Cleveland, they have completely changed their ground, and are for keeping up the internal revenue system and breaking down the protective features of the tariff. The whisky trust has thus risen, finanetate nothing of its internal workings from my own knowledge, but I will produce you Democrats who say that Mr. Randail, the able, upright and experienced Speaker of the House of Representatives was driven from the chair, and Mr. John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky. was made his successor by a Democratic caucus controlled by the whisky trust and acting under the whip and spur of its agents. Mr. Randall's alleged offense was that he would not aid an suspending the tax laws and postponing payment of the tax on whisky in bond, when it seemed to be to the interest of the trust to secure a postponement. Mr. Randall did not believe that the laws of the United States should be administered in such a way as to promote a huge speculation in whicky, and I wish some inquisitive reporter would interview Mr. Randall's political friends on that subject, and then ask, also, how much money the whisky trust is contributing to the Democratic canvass this year; and at the same time he might extend the inquiry into the amount contributed by the sugar trust, and also by the salt trust, including Its fellow-trust in the same business beyond the

which the Democratic party has a large interfault, the Democratic party have received large contributions from stockholders in the Standard oil trust at every critical election within the last five years, and are now relying upon the gracious continuance of that aid in the pending national crisis. So notorious was this interposttion that the Ohio Legislature memorialized the Senate of the United States to cause an inquiry to be made into alleged corruption in the election of the last Democratic Senator from that State. I do not undertake to say there was corbut I do say that the memorial of the State Legislature was presented by Senator Sherman, and a rightful, legal and proper opportunity was given to search through and through for the truth and for a thorough examination into one of the largest trusts in the whole world. Then was the time for the Democratic Senators to make an examination into trusts. One of the largest of them was be fore the Senate, and before it legitimately, and yet you know how precipitately the Democratic Senators fled from the task. You could not lead a Democratic Senator up to it any more than you could induce a breachy colt to face a whistling locomotive. [Langhter and cheers.] Nor was rumor quiet as to the interposition of the national administration to suppress an investigation. If President Cleveland had been as eager to examine into a great trust as he was to denounce them all in his message, his opporunity was there; but, unless all rumors be at fault, the social blandishments of the administration were lavished upon Republican Senators to secure enough of them to join the Democrats to take off the curse of unanimous Demogratic resistance to the investigation of a trust.

"In addition to these trusts i have named

"Nor have I exhausted the list of trusts in the cotten-seed oil trust, which Democrats, and its power is used to aid the Democratic party. They did not apply their money in aid of the Southern Democratic party or for the Southern Democrats. They are too high-toned to use money in elections. [Laughter and applause.] They have found a more excel-lent way in the South, and they reserve pesuniary contributions wholly for the Northern [Laughter and cheers.] Fellow-citizens, have named five trusts, in which all the evil that can come from trusts and all the various mares of the evils that might come from trusts are conspicuously prominent. I pause now, and if there is a Democrat in this assembly I ask him to tell me one great trust in this country controlled by Republicans with any political connection, or able to exert any power of the kind I have described as in the trusts I have named." |No reply came from the great throng, and Mr. Blaine proceeded : "Some one may, perhaps, say 'the steel rail trust.' Well, if there be a steel-rail trust, it must be privately known the Democrats who made the occusation, for it has certainly never been known to the public, and, as matter of fact, I believe only exists in Deniocratic imagination, or, more probably, in Democratic invention. |Laughter and cheers. | But I avail myself of the opportunity that the mention of steel rails gives me to clinch an argument that was made in reference to the salt truet. Steel rails in this country, under the influence of a high protective tariff. have dropped in twenty years from $115 down to $31 or $32, and have, in fact, sold as low as $27.50 per ton. All this result has come about, of course, by way of illustrating the President's doctrine that a tariff duty has invariably added to the cost of the article upon which it was made. [Laughter and applause.] This fall in price has been steady and continuous, and if there is a steel-rail trust, it certainly has been one that worked not to keep up prices, but to steadily lower them. But the Democrats are ciamoring for free trade in steel rails, or for such a low duty as will permit free importations of rails from England. Well, suppose they should obtain it. The men engaged in the steel-rail business have just as sharp an eye to their in terest as Wellington R. Burt has to the salt interest in Michigan. What, then, would happen! Would it not be the easiest thing in the world for the fourteen steel-rail manufacturing establishments in this country to unite with about the same number that exist in Great Britain, and thus make the price of rails what they choose, selling them all the time at the very highest price that the purchaser could bear! thus illustrating anew and afresh that it is free trade, and not protection, that gives the wide and limitless field for operation, through the system of trusts, for I repeat, as intimated before, that international trusts, on the basis of free trade, cannot be dealt with and controlled as domestic trusts that may grow up under the "Finally, gentlemen, on the subject of trusts, let me say that, with all Mr. Cleveland's denunciation of them, and all the support which his party gives them, he has failed, and utterly lailed, to strike the point of objection to them. You will find that described in language as clear as amber in the latter of acceptance by Benjamin Harrison, our candidate for President. in which he neither withholds, nor exaggerates, nor sets down aught in malice, but vindicates, with peculiar power and peculiar directness the position which the Republican party has uniformly held on the whole subject. And I commend you, as I close, to a new reading of two documents-to Mr. Cleveland's free trade message and to General Harrison's letter of acceptacce." [Great cheering, during which Mr. Blaine

After the meeting Mr. Blaine received a call from some two hundred and odd commercial travelers, who had gathered in from neighboring towns to participate in the proceedings. THE NEWARK ELECTION.

Democrats Send Misleading Information Concerning the Result on Tuesday.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 10 .-- The Democrats are sending dispatches all over the country claiming a big victory at the charter election here yesterday, and asserting that Newark has settled the result in the State next month. All the dispatches are false and misleading. They claim big Democratic gains because they compare the minor local contest of yesterday with the vote for President in 1884, when Blaine carried the city. This is not fair. Comparison should be made with the charter elections of the past few years. Newark has been Democratic for several years in local afest. Unless every newspaper statement is at fairs. Its Common Council is Republican. but the present Democratic Mayor has been elected three times. The Germans, owing to the liquor question, frequently support Democratic candidates for Mayor, but always support the Republican presidential ticket. The true comparison of yesterday's election was with the charter election of one year ago, when the Democrats elected Haynes to the mayoralty by a majority of 1,308. Yesterday the Democratic ticket received 512 majority. This shows a clear Republican gain of 796. This is the truth, and shows a substantial Republican victory. The Democrats are sending misleading dispatches in order to divert attention from the significance of the result in November's election.

General Sherman Denounces the Richmond Flag Incident as an Insult.

pecial to the Indianapolis Journal NEW YORK, Oct. 10.-Col. W. J. Parkinson. one of the orators of the Republican National campaign committee, in a speech Saturday night, denounced the Richmond authorities for displaying a confederate flag at the recent unveiling of a monument to General Pickett. Col. Parkinson sent a copy of his remarks to General Sherman, who has replied, thanking Colonel Parkinson for his courtesy, and complimenting him on his speech. General Sherman says in

"If the incident described in the New York Tribune actually occurred, you were not only warranted in all you said, but I am amazed that the newspapers have not given it more publicity. If the public authorities at Richmond did invite Union beroes, including ex-Governor Curtin, to participate in dedicating a monument to the rebel General Pickett, and did permit a rebel flag to be carried in that procession, it was a breach of common politeness, of common deceney, and a public insult to every citizen of the United States, North and South. Congressman Cheadle in Virginia.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. - Congressman Cheadle. of Indiana, who returned to-night from a three day's tour in Virginia, in relating the experiences of the proceedings, said: "Congressman J. D. Taylor, of Ohio, and myself accepted an invitation from Congressman George E. Bowden, of Norfolk, to aid him in the Second district. Mr. Taylor addressed a large audience at Williamsburg on Monday afternoon, and Mr. Bowden. Col. Martin and myself a large and enthusiastic audience in Suffolk; and in the evening all of us spoke to an immense audience in Portemouth. At Suffolk, on the platform, were two grayhaired men, who never before voted the Republican ticket, but who are now enthusiastic workers for Harrison, Morton and protection. At Plymouth were two young lawyers, both graduates of the University of Virginia, and of Democratic parentage, who have come out in favor of the Republican party, and are making speeches in favor of protection, education and a free ballot and honest count. Representative white men are coming to us all over the State. Many of these men were Whigs, and come to us on the tariff issue. Many of these men were prominent Confederates, but realize that the war is over and want to vote for living issues. Mr. Cheadle also spoke in Staunton, and reports the same feeling prevailing there. The latter place is in a white district, and Republican accessions are greater than in eastern Virginia. The meetings were enthusiastic, and Republicans are united, except in the Fourth district, upon Congressman. The divis on there, he says, will not in the least affect the presidential ticket. Mr. Taylor and Cheadle both unite in the opinion that the Old Dominion should receive aid and encouragement from the national committee.

Democrats and the Workingmen.

Special to tue Indianapolis Journal WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. - Another evidence was given to-day that the Democrats in the House are not the friends of the laboring men. Mr. Plumb, of Illinois, called up the Senate bill to adjust accounts of laborers under the eight-hour law. In this measure nearly every man who has worked for the government since the enactment of the eight-hour law, about five years ago, is interested, and thousands of skilled and unskilled laborers would be benefited by its passage. Mr. Plumb insisted that it should be immediately considered, inasmuch as so many needy people were directly affected by it. Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, and a number of other Democrats, immediately entered objection. Mr. Plumb demanded a division, and every Republican in the House voted for consideration of the measure, while every Democrat voted against it.

BALLYING IN CLARK COUNTY

Gen. Maney and Ex-Gov. Porter Address an Immense Meeting at Charlestown.

Reports from Numerous Places Showing that Republicans Are Aroused and Doing Good Work for the Success of the Party.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal CHARLESTOWN, Oct. 10 .- The Republican rally here to-day was one of the grandest ever held in the county. Notwithstanding the speaking was announced to commence at 2 P. M., as early as 11 o'clock delegations began arriving from various parts of this and a few from other counties. The largest delegation to arrive was that from the Republican township of Union, with 115 wagons, including several band-wagons and five or six wagons carrying the glee clubs, each drawn by six horses. A special train brought up a large crowd from Jeffersonville, and many came up on the afternoon train from New Albany. The rally was held at the fair ground, which had been put in excellent condition for the meeting of the Clark county fair and trotting association, held last month. Gen. George Maney, of Tennessee, was the first speaker introduced, and he was received with deafening cheers. He first reviewed the history of the Democratic party, and then paid his respects to the free-trade follies which that party is attempting to force upon the people. General Maney very appropriately advised those among his hearers who thought free trade was right to give the Democratic party credit for bringing such a doctrine into existence, and he thanked his stars that the British nation would not be counted as a voting precinct in the coming election. He devoted his closing remarks to a discussion of the protective tariff system, and wound up by saying he hoped that protection would fall, with the universitality of the sunlight, on the Ameri can people. General Maney was followed by ex-Governor Albert G. Porter, whose presence was the signal for deafening applause, which continued for some five minutes or more. Mr. Porter came forward and begun his speech by saving he wished he was like the little boy whose mother took him to a city hotel, and who, after looking over the bill of fare, and thinking he would have to partake of each particular item embraced in it, said: "Mother, I wish I was twins." There were nearly 10,000 people assembled in the grounds, and Mr. Porter did not think he could make himself heard by them all. He devoted most of his speech to a discussion of the tariff question. His argument was clear and convincing, and especially pleasing to the farmers and laborers. At night Ira J. Chase addressed a large crowd at Prather's Hall.

Great Meeting at Vincennes.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal VINCENNES, Oct. 10.-Last night the Harrison and Morton Railroad Club of this city marched from Republican headquarters through the principal streets to the court-house. Every man carried a railroad lantern, and every man was a voter. They made a grand, dignified manly appearance as they marched, led by a cornet band. The boys are thoroughly in earnest and truly zealous for Harrison and protection. The strong, manly character of the men in the parade made a profound impression on on the crowds of spectators who stood on the sidewalks as they passed. the court-house such a jam was seldom witnessed. Crowds of people went away because they could not get into the building. When the Bruceville Glee Club finished singing a scene of wild applause prevailed. Hon. S. N. Chambers delivered a stirring presentation speech, and handed over to the Railroad Club a magnificent silk flag, the gift of patriotic ladies. Geo. W. Ellers, president of the club, responded in stirring terms. Then Charles H. Litchman was introduced to the packed and jammed house, and for two hours he poured forth such a stream of convincing arguments and facts as have not been heard here this campaign. The audience grew wild under the sturdy blows he administered to the free-trade Democracy. Never in the history of local politics has there been such a rousing and en'husisstic meeting. It was almost an impromptu affair, but it profoundly astonished the Democracy of the city.

Capt. J. B. White's Canvass. special to the Indianapolis Joprnal,

COLUMBIA CITY, Oct. 10 -Capt. J. B. White, Congressman from this district, spoke in the court-house to a large audience. His subject was the tariff, which he handled in a masterly way. He also fully explained the bill lately introduced by him regulating the wage question, and proved himself the champion of the laboring men. His speech did much good, and was loud-ly applauded. Captain White is very popular among the laboring classes, having always been a friend to the laboring man. The Democrats feared his influence on the workingmen of the city, and got up a counter movement, and with a great parade of drums and small boys attempted to prevent their workingmen being present to hear Captain White's speech. They had advertised a torch-light procession and speaking, after they saw the announcement that White would be here, and every effort was made to create a diversion, but without avail. Judge Ninde and Mr. John Leech accompanied Captain White, and both made telling speeches which fracial to the Indianapolis Journal CARTHAGE, Oct. 10 .- Hon. Ben S. Parker, of New Castle, addressed the Republican club of this place last evening. As is usual here this year, many were turned away, unable to gain admission to the large ball. Mr. Parker touched upon each of the prominent current issues, elucidating them in such a manner as to bring their practical bearing to the doorstep of each of his hearers. Especially did he clearly show why every American should take his stand with the Republican party on the tariff question. Desiring that none hereafter be turned away, the local Republican managers have secured a tent with a seating capacity of about 1,200, which will be put up this week for use during the remainder of the campaign. It will be lighted and heated with natural gas.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal RUSHVILLE, Oct. 10. - About 1 P. M., to-day, delegations of Republicans began to gather in the village of Manilla, this county, the first being from Union township, Shelby county, and consisted of a traction engine, drawing five wagons loaded with uniformed men and women. Delegations continued to arrive until after 2 p. M., when Hon. U. Z. Wiley, of Fowler, addressed the audience. Mr. Wiley spoke for an hour and a half, and was given the best of attention. His address cannot fail to do good. Judge Cullen followed him, upon the local and State issues, and pointed to some of the important questions that must be handled by the next Legislature, of which body he will be a member. Two thousand people were present, making the largest gathering thus far at this place.

as no other man can. To-night Major Ward addressed a crowed opera-house on the tariff. Turpie and Matson have been here, and bad tried to delude the people, but Major Ward's exposi-tion of protection facts made everything clear. Chaplain Lozier's songe, his solid sense and pathos, were clear-cut, and his logical and convincing arguments have done untold good to the Republican cause in this place.

Watson, a young and brilliant orator, of Winchester, Ind., addressed the Republicans of Muncie at the Republican headquarters in the Anthony Block, last even ing. His reputation as a forcible and fluent speaker attracted a large concourse of intelligent people. His speech abounded in well-timed hits against the present administration, which were remarkably well received. His entire address received the closest attention, and was frequently applauded. His speech throughout was one of the cleanest and most convincing that has been delivered here this campaign.

Morten discussed the political issues of the day to the great satisfaction of all persons present.

How the Prohibitionists Work.

Special to the Indianabolis Journa. THORNTOWN, Oct. 10.-For some time the charge has been made against the Prohibition party at this place that they were working in unison with the Democrats. This they have stoutly denied. To-day L. M. Crist was seen to deliver to the Demogratic saloon-keeper of this place a package of posters announcing the speaking of Captain Ritter at this place to-morrow. The saloon-keeper is the owner of the only drinking shop in this township. L. M. Crist is the leader of the Prohibition party here. The occurrence has already satisfied some doubting Republicans as to the true intention of the third party hereabouts.

Democratic Raily at Springfield, Itl.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 10 .- The great Democratic State rally occurred here to-day, and was far from what was expected. The great attraction was the defeated candidate for Vice-president at St. Louis, Isaac P. Gray, of Indiana, the present Governor of the State. There was a day parade at 11 A. M. and speeches by Governor Gray, Hon. A. J. Hunter and others. The meeting is far from coming up to their great rally in 1884, when the late Thomas A. Hendricks spoke. There was a torch-light procession at night, after which the Hon. William M. Springer, the present Congressman from this district spoke. General Palmer was for Thurman at St. Louis, and he made it convenient to be absent when Governor Gray was here. There was not one-half the crowd that was promised.

Cannon Explodes, Inflicting Horrible an Fatal Injuries on a Bystander.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal RUSHVILLE, Oct. 10 .- At Andersonville, on the eastern border of Rush county, while the delegations were coming in to listen to Judge Jere M. Wilson, a salute was being fired, and at the third discharge of the cannon it burst, flying into six pieces. One of the pieces struck Martin Lewis, breaking his left arm, mangling his right arm, and crushing in his left breast. It also opened anew a knife wound he had received some time since in the abdomen, from which wound his bowels protruded. Notwithstanding the dreadful character of his injuries, Lewis walked to his home. He was unconscious in the evening and sinking rapidly. The cannon was a small cast-iron affair.

Another accident of a serious nature occurred soon after. While the citizens were lowering a pole to repair some part of it, the pole fell, striking Jasper Shockley on the head and neck, and felling him to the ground. He became unconscious, but is now recovering.

The State Baptist Association. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SHELBYVILLE, Oct. 10 .- The Baptist State convention was very largely attended to-day. Delegates from all portions of the State are here, including pastors and laymen. Notable among these are Rev. Dr. Chaffee, of La Porte; Rev. S. A. Northrop, of Fort Wayne; Rev. B. F. Cavins, Peru; Rev. C. J. Pope, of Valparaiso; Rev. Noah Harper, of Columbus; Rev. C. G. Skillman, Madison; Hon. J. H. C. Smith, Bluffton; Geo. C. Dorland, Laporte; R. Alder, Terre Haute; W. H. Perkins, Indianapolis. The special topics considered to-day were the reports of the committees on resolutions, on the publication society's work, and on Sunday school missions. A very strong resolution in favor of the suppression of the liquor traffic was passed by an unanimous vote. Rev. C. C. Bitting, D. D., of Philadelphia, made a strong plea in the course of a stirring and eloquent address in favor of Bible distribution and Sunday-school missions. The convention employs conjointly the publication society, located Philadelphia, a Sunday-school missionary in the State whose work during the year had been highly successful. Besides effecting a more thorough organization, new Sundayschools have been started on the average of one per week for the year.

One of the best things of the session was the address of Rev. Dr. Stinson, of Terre Haute, on "Systematic Benevolence." A proposition through a committee of the Sunday-school convention, appointed last June, to secure grounds and suitable buildings for a Baptist summer assembly at Pine Lake, La Porte, was favorably received and the trustees appointed. The general subject of education, embracing the work and condition of Franklin College as a special feature, was considered in the evening, addresses being made by President Dr. Stott, Rev. W. L. Riley and others. The solos of Mrs. S. A. Northrop and the renditions by a quartette consisting of the abovenamed lady, Mrs. Downey, Rev. J. W. Weddell, of Chicago, and R. L. Alder, of Terre Haute, have contributed very greatly to the enjoyment of the audience.

Reunion of the Ninety-Ninth.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Peru, Oct. 10.-The first annual meeting of the Ninety-ninth Indiana Volunteers commenced in this city yesterday, and ended to-day at noon. The meeting was a success as to numbers, interest and cordial greeting. Yesterday's programme embraced a bounteous spread in Grand Army Hall, both noon and evening, to the veterans, presided over by the Ladies Relief Corps. The evening's camp-fire was among the largest ever given in this county, and that it was an appreciative one was evinced by the numbers in attendance and hearty accord given to those addressing them. Comrade Spaulding, of Wabash, delivered the welcome address, and was followed by Chaplain Lucas, of Des Moines, Ia., in prayer. The principal address of the evening was that of Chaplain Lucas, and consisted of humorous and comical features encountered during the regiment's campaign; also, the pathetic side, ending with a glorious tribute to the old flag. Colonel Farrar, of this city, briefly addressed the members, and reviewed the campaigns of the regiment. Other interesting features were interspersed throughout the meeting, notable among which was singing by the quartet, manual of arms by Peru Guards, recitations by Miss Maud Farrar and Comrade Spaulding, closing with the memorable song, "John Brown's Body."
An interesting camp-meeting was afterwards held for social intercourse, lasting into the early hours of morning. A Montpelier correspondent says that a most remarkable discovery has been made at the Salomonic quarries. The blasts at this quarry are set off by a battery, and are very powerful. Recently a blast opened up a fissure which was filled with clear water, brackish to the taste, The hole was about twelve inches wide, ten feet long and eight feet deep, the bottom and sides being solid rock, and completely isolated. The water in it was as in a marble basin. In the water were found numerous fish and frogs. which differed from the ordinary species in that they had no eyes. From the surroundings it would seem that the fish and frogs had lived there thousands of years. Several places in these quarries show traces of volcanic action.

Nine Prominent Citizens of Mattoon Indicted for Lynching a Man Under Arrest.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 10 .- The indictment by the grand jury of nine citizens of Mattoon, for the lypching of William Moore, on June 25, is the sensation here. Those under indictment are J. B. Benefiel, ex-Mayor H. M. O. Thode, L. D. Weaver, John Brers, William Kincaid, B. Brewer, S. H. Kirkpatrick, Adolf Walker and Eli Myers. The social standing of the defendants, and the unusual procedure, have led to conjectures as to the result. Moore was arrested for alleged assault upon Mary Baumgartner, who, it was claimed, was of immoral character. At 10 o'clock at night one of the sheriff's deputies received a telegram from Mattoon, stating that a mob was being organized there for the purpose of lynching Moore. When the mob to the number of 150 armed and masked men arrived at the jail they found the iron doors fastened, but, after much difficulty, succeeded in breaking down the barriers. They soon had the prisoner out and hanged him to a water-tank half a mile from the jail.

Mortgages in the State. SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 10 .- For about a year the State Board of Labor Statistics has been collecting information on the subject of mortcages in Illinois, and will shortly complete its tabulations for every county in the State. This is claimed to be the first thorough collection of statistics made in the country on the subject, and will show the status of the mortgage records for three periods-1877, 1880 and 1887. The total on lands, lots and chattels is now about $402,-000,000. Of this amount $142,000,000 is in farm mortgages. It has been found impossible to ascertain accurately what proportion of these instruments is owned by non-residents, but so far as the records show the non-resident holdings are less than $37,000,000. Saloon-Keepers Indicted. "Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestab-lished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time.' J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer." Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
